

WRITING CENTER

Writing Centers are located on each campus for in-person writing tutoring help or for online appointments via Zoom. Our Writing Centers strive to enhance the writing and revision skills of its community of writers through engaging one-on-one sessions. Furthermore, we are committed to helping students with any writing-based work at any stage of the writing process, including pre-writing, organizing, drafting, revising, and editing. We believe that all writers have a sense of agency over their writing. While many writers are not always confident in themselves, we are here to be your supporters and provide guidance for gaining confidence and making authoritative decisions with your writing. We aim to make your writing better, but also to make YOU a better writer. It is easy to make an appointment with a tutor via Starfish or by going to the Writing Center website (<https://www.ccri.edu/writingcenter/>).
